3. World’s Highest Wine Cellar (Guinness World Records, 2006-present)
4. A Canadian icon and one of the world’s top tourist destinations, each year, over 1.5 million people from all over the world make the CN Tower Toronto’s must see destination.
5. A leading event venue, the CN Tower, 360 and its various unique venues host over 500 memorable events annually for 2 to 2000 for meetings, receptions, dinners, themed events, product and press launches.
6. As one of the tallest buildings in the world, the CN Tower celebrates many unique attributes such as World’s Highest Wine Cellar and the World’s Highest Outdoor Walk on a Building.
7. North America’s first and the world’s highest glass floor paneled elevators present a thrilling new perspective on the view 346m (1,136 feet) straight down. A portion of the elevator floor features two glass panels which when combined represent almost 0.6m2 (6 ft2) of floor space. Traveling at 22km/15mph, the Tower's six glass-fronted elevators rocket guests to the top of its glass-fronted elevator shaft - 346m/1,136ft in 58 seconds, earning the distinction as the World's #1 elevator ride.
8. The most spectacular views of Toronto and Lake Ontario stretching to the horizon - on a clear day, visibility can be over 160 kilometres (100 miles).
9. Originally conceived as a transmission tower, the CN Tower brought the Toronto area some of the clearest reception in North America, adapting to the incredible advances of the last decades by providing a cell site for wireless voice and data transmissions and continues to be used by over 30 radio and television broadcasters.
10. It took approximately 40 months to complete the CN Tower. Construction started on February 6, 1973, and wrapped up in June of 1976.
11. 1,537 courageous workers toiled around the clock, five days a week, 24 hours a day, to build the CN Tower.
12. 1975 – April 2, onlookers were riveted by the sight of a giant Erickson Air-crane Sikorsky helicopter with a 72’ wingspan as it lifted the final of 44 pieces of the Tower’s antenna into place; officially making it the world’s tallest at that time.
13. Concrete was poured onto a slipform which moved continuously upward an average of 22 feet a day from Monday to Friday each week. The horizontal lines in the concrete that can still be seen indicate where pouring stopped at the end of each week and are nicknamed “Friday lines”.

14. The CN Tower was originally built at a cost of $63 million.

15. The Radome (donut shaped level at the bottom of the main pod) is a Teflon-coated fiberglass fabric protecting the Tower’s microwave equipment at the base of the pod and can hold the weight of an average adult male yet measures only 1mm or 0.036 in. thick. Its donut-like shape results from inflating the material and maintaining constant pressure.

16. The CN Tower’s Glass Floor was the world’s first when it opened on June 26, 1994. It is 23.8 square meters (256 sq. ft.) of solid glass and is five times stronger than the required weight bearing standard for commercial floors. It can withstand the weight of 14 large hippos.

17. There are a full 40,524 cubic metres (53,000 cubic yards) of concrete in the CN Tower, enough to build a sidewalk curb from Toronto to Kingston, Ontario (that’s over 231 km! (143 miles)).

18. Canada’s National Tower weighs in at 117,910 metric tonnes (130,000 tons). This is about the equivalent of 23,214 large elephants.

19. Lightning strikes the CN Tower an average of 75 times per year. Long copper strips, running down the CN Tower to massive grounding rods buried below ground level ensure that each lightning strike safely finds its way to ground.

20. The CN Tower has a hollow 1200’ hexagonal core providing stability and flexibility to the full height of the CN Tower.

21. The upper reaches of the CN Tower are built to withstand turbulent winds with a wind resistance factor of up to 418 km/h (260 mph)! In addition to the stability and strength of the structure, the armour- plated windows of the Tower were carefully designed for extreme wind tolerance.

22. Air temperature can be up to 10 degrees cooler at the top of the CN Tower than at ground level.

23. The CN Tower was built with the strength and flexibility to withstand an earthquake of 8.5 on the Richter scale.

24. The CN Tower is regularly visited by a who’s who in entertainment from actors to musicians and sports celebrities. Dignitaries and leaders from around the world also venture to 360 The Restaurant at the CN Tower to experience regional Canadian cuisine at its finest.

25. The 1,776 steps of the CN Tower’s main stairwell are climbed by over 20,000 people annually during two fundraising stair climbs for the World Wildlife Fund and the United Way raising well over $3 million for charity every year.

26. The CN Tower, 360 Restaurant and EdgeWalk are the scene of dozens of marriage proposals a year.

27. 360 Restaurant’s unique Wine Cellar in the Sky, the world’s highest – holds an award-winning selection of 9,000 bottles of wine, right in the restaurant over 1000 feet above the city.

28. Record numbers: Visitors to the observation levels in one day – 12,774; meals served in 360 Restaurant on one day –1,855.

29. The CN Tower decreases unnecessary exterior lights during bird migration seasons to prevent bird injuries.

30. The CN Tower’s elevators use a pendulum device to monitor periods of high winds and sensors will cause the elevator speed to slow down in stages for the comfort of our guests riding in them, from 1200 feet/minute to 900 feet/minute to 600 feet/minute.

31. A system was designed that resulted in the Tower being within an incredible 2.79 (1.1 inches) of plumb! This precision enables the Tower to have one of the longest continuous elevator hoistways.
32. Like all tall, narrow buildings, the CN Tower was built to be flexible and wind resistant. Here is the wind resistance of various parts of the Tower in winds of 120 mph, with 200 mph gusts:

- Antenna - 1.07 m (3 1/2 ft) from centre
- SkyPod - 0.46 m (1 1/2 ft) from centre
- Main Pod - 22.9 cm (9 inches) from centre

33. 360 Restaurant revolves once every 72 minutes to offer diners a breathtaking revolving view of Toronto more 1,000 feet below. The turntable is comprised of concrete on a steel frame weighing approximately 200 tonnes.
